Training for Students in Thread Bangle Making

Name of the Activity: Training in Thread Bangle Making

Organized by: Women Empowerment Cell

Date of the Activity: 12-12-2022 to 16-12-2022

Number of students who participated: 25

Name of the Trainer: Dr. Vijaya Lakshmi, Convener, WEC

Introduction

The Women Empowerment Cell (WEC) of the college organized a five-day, skill-oriented training program on Thread Bangle Making from 12th to 16th December 2022. This initiative aimed to uplift and revitalize traditional handmade crafts by equipping students with practical skills in thread bangle making. With a strong focus on fostering self-employment, the training empowered participants to tap into income-generating opportunities by leveraging their creative talents. A total of 25 students actively participated in the program, where they not only learned the art of crafting thread bangles but also gained insights into essential product management skills.

The program addressed the growing market demand for traditional handmade products, combining cultural preservation with economic empowerment. By learning the craft of thread bangle making, participants contributed to sustaining an art form that holds cultural and historical significance while also acquiring skills that could be monetized. This dual objective of preserving heritage and promoting financial independence was a central theme of the training program, positioning it as an impactful initiative for both cultural and economic growth.

Objectives of the Activity

The training program aimed to achieve the following objectives:

1. To provide comprehensive hands-on training in thread bangle making, promoting self-employment and economic empowerment among students.
2. To cultivate an understanding of traditional handmade crafts and the cultural significance of ethnic jewelry, thus encouraging cultural heritage preservation.
3. To impart practical skills in product management, including selecting and sourcing raw materials, cost estimation, and quality control.
4. To foster creativity and craftsmanship by teaching students intricate embellishment techniques using mirrors, silk threads, beads, and other decorative elements.

Description of the Activity

The five-day training program was designed to focus on practical skill development and hands-on learning. The event commenced with an inaugural ceremony on 12th December 2022, presided over by the Principal, Dr. V.R. Jyotsna Kumari, who formally opened the workshop. The training sessions were conducted under the expert guidance of Dr. P. Vijaya Lakshmi, Convener of the Women Empowerment Cell, with support from committee members who ensured the smooth execution of the program.

The daily schedule consisted of structured sessions, each targeting a specific aspect of thread bangle making:

- Day 1: Introduction to the art of thread bangle making, including its cultural significance and market potential. The students were also oriented on selecting appropriate materials and tools for the craft.
- Day 2: Basics of threading and wrapping techniques to create a base for the bangles. Participants practiced wrapping silk thread smoothly and evenly around bangle frames, ensuring a professional finish.
- Day 3: Introduction to embellishment techniques. Students learned how to enhance the visual appeal of the bangles using mirrors, beads, and other decorative elements, experimenting with different designs and patterns.
- Day 4: Advanced techniques for intricate embellishment, incorporating more complex patterns and combinations of decorative elements. Emphasis was placed on creating unique designs that stand out in the market.
- Day 5: Product management training, covering aspects such as cost estimation, pricing, inventory management, and marketing strategies for selling handcrafted products. Students also received feedback on their finished bangles.

Throughout the program, students were encouraged to ask questions and receive one-on-one guidance from the trainer. The interactive nature of the sessions allowed for skill refinement, enabling participants to produce high-quality bangles by the end of the training.

Outcomes

The training program resulted in several significant outcomes:

1. Students acquired practical skills in thread bangle making, equipping them with the ability to create customized ethnic jewelry with a professional touch. The hands-on experience provided a solid foundation in the craft.
2. Participants learned about sourcing raw materials, managing costs, and planning product development, essential skills for starting a small business or self-employment venture. The knowledge gained helped them understand the dynamics of the handicraft market.
3. The training fostered creativity, allowing students to experiment with different design techniques and produce aesthetically pleasing thread bangles. It provided an outlet for artistic expression and helped develop a keen eye for detail.
4. The program encouraged students to value traditional crafts and inspired them to innovate within this cultural art form, contributing to the preservation and evolution of ethnic jewelry. This appreciation for cultural heritage was further strengthened through discussions on the historical significance of handmade crafts.

Additionally, the training helped students understand the real-world aspects of product management, from raw material procurement to cost estimation and sales strategies. This comprehensive approach ensured that the students were not only trained in the art itself but also equipped with entrepreneurial skills that could facilitate their journey toward self-employment and financial independence.

Conclusion

The training in Thread Bangle Making was a successful endeavor that empowered students with a valuable skill set, promoting traditional handmade crafts as a means of economic and cultural enrichment. By opening new avenues for self-employment and providing practical knowledge that can be leveraged for economic and personal growth, the program significantly contributed to the holistic development of the participants. It highlighted the role of traditional art forms in modern-day entrepreneurship, reinforcing the importance of cultural preservation and economic empowerment through skill-based education.

Two-Day Workshop for students on Glass Painting&FabricPainting

Activity Title: Two-Day Workshop on Glass and Fabric Painting

Organized by: Women Empowerment Cell in partnership with Fevicyl India Pvt. Ltd.

Dates: February 2nd & 3rd, 2023

Number of Participants: 25 students

Introduction

The Women Empowerment Cell (WEC) of the college, in collaboration with Fevicyl India Pvt. Ltd., organized a two-day workshop on Glass Painting and Fabric Painting on 2nd and 3rd February 2023. This workshop aimed to uplift and support traditional handmade art by providing hands-on training to students in these art forms. With a growing demand in the market for handcrafted artwork, this initiative sought to empower students with the skills needed to create and monetize their creations. A total of 25 students participated in the event, gaining practical knowledge of techniques used in glass and fabric painting.

Objectives of the Activity

The primary objectives of the workshop were:

- To provide hands-on training in glass and fabric painting, equipping students with practical techniques to master artistic skills.
- To nurture students' abilities in traditional handmade arts, promoting cultural heritage preservation while integrating modern artistic trends for versatility.
- To empower participants with entrepreneurial skills, guiding them on how to monetize their talents and create market-ready artworks for income generation.
- To foster creativity and artistic expression through comprehensive instruction in painting techniques, such as color theory, shading, layering, and brushwork.

Description of the Activity

The workshop unfolded over two days, featuring intensive practical training sessions. The event commenced with an inaugural ceremony, where the Principal, Dr. V.R. Jyotsna Kumari, addressed the participants and inaugurated the workshop at 11 a.m. on February 2nd, 2023. The sessions were led by Ms. Syamala, an expert trainer from Fevicyl India Pvt. Ltd., who provided thorough guidance and training in various painting techniques. The activities were closely monitored and supported by the Women Empowerment Cell's team, headed by Convener Dr. P. Vijaya Lakshmi, along with other members to ensure the smooth running of the workshop.

During the workshop, students explored a range of techniques and skills in both glass and fabric painting:

- Training included techniques such as applying colors on glass surfaces, using outliners to define design boundaries, and mastering methods to achieve transparency, vibrancy, and depth.
- Participants were taught how to draw and paint on various fabrics using techniques like shading, layering, and manipulating brushstrokes to create textures and dimensions.

- The training emphasized practical skills, including mixing colors to achieve desired tones and understanding the different types of paints suitable for glass and fabric applications.

The workshop's interactive format encouraged participants to ask questions, receive personalized feedback, and experiment with different techniques. This hands-on approach facilitated a learning environment that promoted artistic freedom, resulting in the creation of unique and personal artworks by the end of the training.

Outcomes

The workshop yielded significant and impactful outcomes:

1. Participants gained practical techniques in glass and fabric painting, enhancing their artistic skills and confidence in their abilities.
2. Students developed an understanding of traditional handmade arts, fostering a sense of pride in cultural heritage while exploring modern artistic trends.
3. Attendees learned how to monetize their artistic talents, gaining valuable insights into creating market-ready artworks for potential income generation.
4. The training fostered creativity and artistic expression, equipping students with knowledge of painting techniques such as color theory, shading, and brushwork.

Conclusion

Overall, the two-day workshop was a resounding success in empowering participants with a valuable and versatile skill set, while simultaneously promoting traditional handmade art and supporting the participants' personal and professional growth. The program provided not just artistic knowledge, but also practical pathways for leveraging creativity into economic opportunity.

Handloom Exhibition

Name of the Activity: Handloom Exhibition

Organized by: Women Empowerment Cell (WEC)

Introduction

The Handloom Exhibition, organized on April 10, 2023, by the Women Empowerment Cell (WEC) of our college, aimed to promote the rich tradition and culture of India through its handloom industry. As one of the oldest cottage industries in the country, the handloom sector reflects the diverse craftsmanship of various regions. However, with the advent of modernization and industrialization, this industry has been losing its prominence. To combat this trend and to encourage interest in wearing handloom textiles, the WEC took the initiative to organize an exhibition and sale, thereby creating awareness and fostering appreciation for these unique products.

Objectives

The primary objectives of the Handloom Exhibition were:

1. To educate students and staff about the significance of the handloom industry, its cultural heritage, and the craftsmanship involved in producing handloom textiles.
2. To provide a platform for local weavers, particularly KSR Handlooms from Chirala, to showcase and sell their products, thus sustaining their livelihoods.
3. To promote interaction between students, faculty, and local artisans, fostering a deeper appreciation for traditional crafts.
4. To motivate students and staff to incorporate handloom textiles into their wardrobes, highlighting their beauty and cultural significance.

Description of the Activity

The handloom exhibition was successfully conducted on the college premises under the guidance of the Women Empowerment Cell. With participation from KSR Handlooms of Chirala, the event featured a wide range of both stitched and unstitched dress materials, including sarees, showcasing the exquisite craftsmanship of local artisans.

The exhibition attracted an impressive turnout of approximately 300 students and 160 staff members. The stalls were adorned with vibrant textiles, and the atmosphere was filled with enthusiasm as attendees explored the variety of handloom products available. The response from the college community was overwhelmingly positive, with many visitors expressing their appreciation for the craftsmanship and cultural significance of the items on display.

Sales during the exhibition reached an impressive total of Rs. 170,000, demonstrating the strong demand for handloom products within the college community. The moderate pricing and availability of ready-made tops contributed to the enthusiastic participation, especially among students.

Outcomes

The Handloom Exhibition resulted in several significant outcomes:

1. The exhibition generated sales of Rs. 170,000, providing vital financial support to local weavers and reflecting a strong interest in handloom products among students and staff.
2. Participants gained a deeper understanding of the handloom industry's cultural significance and the craftsmanship involved in producing these textiles, fostering a sense of pride in traditional Indian crafts.
3. The event successfully facilitated interaction between students, staff, and local artisans, enhancing mutual respect and appreciation for the skills and challenges faced by weavers.
4. The positive response from the college community indicated a growing interest in incorporating handloom products into daily wear, supporting sustainable fashion choices.

Conclusion

The Handloom Exhibition organized by the Women Empowerment Cell served as an effective platform to promote the traditional handloom industry while engaging the college community in meaningful interactions with local artisans. By creating awareness and encouraging the purchase of handloom products, the event contributed to the preservation of cultural heritage and supported the livelihoods of weavers. The enthusiastic participation and impressive sales figures demonstrate the potential for future exhibitions to further enhance appreciation for handloom textiles and foster a culture of sustainability within the college. This initiative not only highlighted the importance of traditional crafts but also paved the way for continued efforts to promote local artisans and their invaluable contributions to Indian culture.
